DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 20,22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Walls (5,262,270)

Walls discloses a structure usable in lithographic process comprising first and second radiation sensitive materials one on top of the other (see column 6, 35-45). The two materials are also taught to be different from each other. Although the prior art may have omitted to use the claim language to describe the product, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to see the similarity between the prior art and the claimed inventions since any support where the two materials are processed implies the existence of a common substrate and since the type of radiation applied in the prior art is electromagnetic by definition.

As for claim 22, the two materials have polymeric content as generic element.

Claim 21 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 1-19 are allowed.
